Terminology of feelings

The terminology of feelings is based on discovering new words for emotions we've all experienced but could never name. This visual dictionary contains 16 words, with 10 of them being perhaps the most common. It is presented in the form of a nostalgic and exciting book where you can relive those emotions. In my opinion, feelings are the most important things that drive us forward, reminding us every day that we are still alive, regardless of whether they are positive or negative.

(Note: In case I get the chance to exhibit this project I would love it to be in a form of a book because only like that is it complete. Thank you.)
